Announcement

Washington State is blessed with a very collaborative and participative community statewide of professional responders, agencies, associations, government at all levels, tribal nations, non-governmental agencies/associations and the private sector community. We have especially enjoyed that with the development and revision all three years for the Washington Statewide Homeland Security Strategic Plan that has been recently completed and will soon be published. A special thank you to the Committee on Homeland Security Strategy Development Working Group for steering this effort all year.

We would also like to extend our thanks to Amy Cook the departing Homeland Security Strategic Planner as she heads with her family to join the Texas National Guard in Austin Texas. Amy has contribute significantly to our state government results and National Guard through her achievements in various positions as both a National Guard officer and state government manager and we wish her the best as she departs.

Please join me in welcoming Scott Heinze to the Homeland Security Strategic Planner role as he joins us soon from Congressmen Adam Smith's Office. We are very fortunate as a community to have Scott continue his distinguished career in public service by assuming the planner responsibilities. In addition to his legislative experience Scott's policy experience and prior law enforcement experience will contribute a great deal to TEAM Washington. Scott will be joining our office in early June.
